

Stanley E. Long is a retired engineer, photographer and freelance writer. He may occasionally write a poem, but likes to delve into history, especially ancestry, and is working on a biography of his father as well as family memoirs. He often exhibits his photographs at county fairs and likes to use them to illustrate an article when possible. They appear frequently in the Lutheran Light, the Grace Lutheran Church newsletter. He may be reached by email at Longse@aol.com.
